Subject: Moslem UK arriving now at Platform Javid?

The Coming Collapse of Britain?

Bishop Guy Leven-Torres 20th May 2018

Britain as we used to know it is gone. Any 'Britain' that replaces it will be a totally different entity from the one I was born into. Since my youth I have been fighting the forces of chaos, so epitomised by the Left. The Tory Party that I once belonged to has succumbed to "The Long March Through The Institutions", so that today we have an almost openly Marxist-Trotskyist 'Prime-Minister' in Chairman May, who if my well-placed informants are correct, is in the process of ensuring that the Tory version of Sadiq Khan, Home Secretary Sajid Javid is soon to replace her as Tory leader and all that means.

Frankly he does not look trustworthy.

He was instrumental in the setting up of sukuk sharia finance bonds to make London the sharia finance centre of the world. His old department of culture and communities is now rented back to HM Government under sukuk finance sharia arrangements. It also appears that plans are in motion for Houses of Parliament to be refurbished through similar "partnerships". The buildings are sold to a rich Moslem financier- usually an Arab then rented back under Islamic laws against usury.

Think of Sukuk as Islamic bonds that are structured in a way to generate returns to investors. They are issued and traded in compliance with the principles of Shariah, which prohibit "riba" or interest. When you buy bonds, you are essentially loaning money to the issuer for a fixed period of time. 6 Jun 2016

Javid was instrumental in establishing this whole scheme. I call it conquest by sharia finance. <https://www.independent.co.uk/news/uk/politics/five-whitehall-buildings-held-by-wealthy-businessmen-now-operating-under-sharia-rules-a6910131.html>

Islamic infiltration of the British Establishment is deep and we are now seeing the results. As long ago as 1997, New Labour "got in" due to a combination of angry Tory voters tired of John Major's farcical administration and the growing inner city Moslem vote.

Today that infiltration into London and other cities is so much larger-up to 8,000,000 according to some estimates if one includes the illegal 'asylum seekers' of around 1,000,000 in London alone, aided by corruption that is now endemic, as is the illegal abuse of corporation housing sub-letting to and by the same, that means that no Tory Government can gain a successful working majority as we saw in both Cameron's time and then again in 2017 under the hapless May, who desperate to retain power has groomed Javid as a potential leader and fig leaf for the massively corrupt Moslem vote.

This is how such infiltration works in what I have given as a perfect example of the Hegelian Dialectic. Javid is the perfect synthetic solution and May should know this.

Corbyn too faces a Sadiq Khan, already Mayor of London and angling to replace him as leader of the Labour Party. The Moslem Brotherhood has played its infiltration game like a well-tuned violin.

I have been warning of this for years but was called every name under the sun and pilloried as an extremist. These types of coup happen very quickly in political history, as we are now seeing. My target date of an Islamic UK around 2023 is it seems, very accurate. Perhaps now people will listen to me. For once I wish I was proven wrong,

Guy
