

From: David Nevett <djnevett@gmail.com>
Date: 26 July 2018 at 05:04:37 BST
To: oliver.letwin.mp@parliament.uk, Gerard Batten
<gerard.batten@btinternet.com>, Roger Wright- Morris
<rogerwm07@gmail.com>
Subject: Determine the thing can be done, and will be done, then find the way.....

Good Morning All,

The words of Abraham Lincoln were appropriate when he first spoke them, and remain effective to this day, as proved by President Trump.

A wake-up call for Prime Minister May, Ollie Robbins, and all Remoaners plus those who do not appreciate President Trump's abilities as a leader:

Yesterday, in very short order Mr Trump negotiated a bi-lateral Trade agreement with the European Union.

With Mr Juncker, no less.

In a matter of hours, America's chief has negotiated an end to the fast growing trade war between Europe and the United States.

As reported in the Daily Telegraph:

Mr Trump said the EU had agreed to buy "a lot of soybeans almost immediately," and increase its imports of liquefied natural gas from the US "massively".

He added: "Both of us will win." Mr Juncker said there would be no further tariffs, including on cars, while they negotiate, and that existing US tariffs on European steel and aluminum would be re-examined.

He said: "I had the intention to make a deal today. And we made a deal today."

The US president said: "We agreed today, first of all, to work together toward zero tariffs, zero non-tariff barriers and zero subsidies on non-auto industrial goods.

<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/2018/07/25/donald-trump-jean-claude-juncker-agree-deal-stave-trade-war/>

I do hope this message reaches all our elected officials, and helps our Chief Negotiator to achieve a deal with the EU along similar lines, without giving up sovereignty or control of our borders and natural resources.

Have a Good Day

Regards

David