

Chequers Agreement response from the South West

Dear Derek Thomas,

The Chequers 'Agreement'

An analysis of the Chequers Proposal by Martin Howe QC says the UK will still be bound by the EU rulebook and have to obey, in complete detail, the laws promulgated by the EU without having a vote on the content of those laws.

Clearly, acceptance of the EU "rule book" as to 100% [rather than 20% approx. being only trade conformity related if the UK was only within the Single Market through membership of EFTA] will limit any opportunity for the UK in every way to manoeuvre in all separate trade negotiations and thereby entirely restrain the UK's ability to exploit these Brexit opportunities.

There will be no separate UK trade deals outside the EU worldwide trade deals. This is not BREXIT but BRINO.

93% of UK GDP does not involve export to the Single Market [i.e. only 7% of UK GDP, being 37% of UK exports; such total UK exports amount in total to 20% of UK GDP]. However 100% of UK businesses will have to comply with 100% of all EU regulations. The costs, according to Gordon Brown in 2005, amounted then to an equivalent of 7% of GDP (£140bn pa).

Theresa May has entirely lost the BREXIT plot but is treacherously succeeding in her Remainer endeavours at great cost to the UK in every way. Paying £39 billion for treason is itself making the May Socialists unelectable. The May Tory party is doomed.

This is a disaster for the UK and everyone within her.

Of great concern is the way in which an un-elected civil servant, Ollie Robbins, seems to be taking a lead in all this, by - passing elected government ministers in the process. Dominic Raab is supposed to be our 'negotiator'. Why is Robbins going to Brussels, and what is he doing and saying? Treachery is the answer.

According to press photographs, David Davis was only permitted to read the Chequers Cabinet papers, which the PM had withheld, until after her meeting with Mrs Merkel.

The Government seems to have returned to the days of Blair's presidential approach, when Ministers had little influence over what Blair and his advisors decided to do regardless of the electorate, the Referendum and of any knowledge of how the EU and the Single Market was run. Only an ass would set out on this hopeless May style quest without any understanding of the technical application of EU Conformity rules, the need for Sanitary and Phytosanitary reports and inspections, or any understanding of NOBOS [Notified Bodies] or the rule taking of the EU from WTO bodies that lay down much of the technical standards for WTO trade. The UK will be barred perhaps even from re-taking its seat on these WTO bodies that create and promulgate agreed standards.

If The Government fails to deliver Brexit for the 408 (62.8%) constituencies which voted to leave the EU, then it will pay a very heavy price. The Real Tories will be destroyed alongside the May Socialists.

Please urge the PM strongly to resign, and permit a successor to be PM who will honour the Referendum, recover full and real UK Sovereignty in full over land sea and sky outside the EU but subject to WTO rules and standards.

What we need now is strong leadership and direction to deliver "Brexit means Brexit", and thereby taking the UK fully out of the Single Market, the Customs Union and fully free from the EU rule book. That is what "Leaving the EU" means.

The Phony War and the time for compromise is over. The real Battle for Britain is beginning. Will you be fighting for BREXIT and for the Will of 408 constituencies and the very soul of The United Kingdom? Or for Treason? And then for the lost cause of the survival of either the May Socialist-lite party or the lost soul of the divided and non democratic Tory party? ,

I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,
