Subject: When did Brexit Mean EU
military Union?

Hi all, just been watching the 1st Oct 2018 Bruges Group meeting with Andrea Jenkins MP, Priti Patel MP and Owen Patterson MP on the panel.

[The Brexit event was recorded by Graham Eardley from UKIP. The meeting can be seen in the link below. If anyone can contact Graham he should put this out on Youtube from 62 minutes.]

During the Q&A session @62 minutes a lady from the audience said she'd "...like to see assurances from all of you (the panel) I never wanted to see Europe a totally unelected totalitarian rule our defence system, take control of our army, our navy and air force and more importantly decisions whether we go to warfare or not. I don't ever want to see that. We must save our sovereignty and control. I'd love to see what you have to say"

All 3 on the panel started to wriggle (why?). The body language said it they were uncomfortable with the question and I can say their answers were not reassuring whatsoever and perhaps this question needs to be asked more often by audience members at every Brexit event, because the media won't ask it, Brexit event organisers and politicians don't like to mention it either (why?).

Why are Brexiteer and Remainer politicians, including Nigel Farage silent on EU military union?

Leave Means Leave said they would put EU military union at the top of their Agenda at the first Bolton event, but remained silent on it, at the second Birmingham event

On the panel, Andrea Jenkins referred to efforts made by David Banks from Veterans for Britain and that "papers" had already been signed (by the government with the EU), as if that was already a done deal, a fait accompli, Priti Patel waffled on for a minute about nothing and Owen Patterson kept stum.

Nothing was said about asking questions in parliament to demand that we must not surrender control to the EU whatsoever, must not "integrate" into an EU Army, must not surrender control of our defence to the EU ever.

Anyone would think there was some sort of secret collective agreement or orders from up high in LIBLABCON, not to discuss EU military and defence union anywhere.

So when did Brexit mean EU military Union?
